

Module

Regulatory dynamics & practical implications

In collaboration with
VU Amsterdam

The VBA Academy is powered by
CFA Society Netherlands

About this module

This module provides participants insight into European and Dutch laws and regulations that apply to the financial sector. In addition participants will learn more about how to deal with various regulators as well as ethical principles.

Content

Laws, regulations and guidelines are essential to define the playing field for the investment professional. At the end of this module you will understand how this works, how the different regulations interact and what the underlying ethical principles and assumption choices are. These will help you perform in this seemingly complex playing field.

Learning objectives

- Participants will have more knowledge about the framework of European and Dutch laws and regulations that apply to the financial sector. In particular the investment sector.
- During this module participants will work on various assignments. These assignments will add to both communication skills (presenting and explaining complex ideas simply) and curiosity (openness to new ideas and challenging conventional wisdom) to find solutions to complex regulatory and ethical issues.

Topics

- Principles around MiFID and Wft
- Basic principles around the theory of financial ethics
- Legislation and guidelines regarding MAR (Market Abuse Regulation) and MAD (Market Abuse Directive)
- Legislation and guidelines regarding European and Dutch laws and regulations for investment funds
- Legislation and guidelines regarding European and Dutch laws and regulations for pension funds

Study load & Format

The module will require 10 weeks of 10-12 hours of study load, including classes. This will vary according to your pre-education and work experience.

You are expected to attend in-class lectures at VU Amsterdam*, which are supported by pre-readings and pre-assignments.

) depending on COVID-19 developments, lectures may take place at an alternative location or may be offered online*
