

Nominated candidates for board position

Inge van den Doel PhD – General Director of PMT (Pensioenfonds Metaal & Techniek)

Ever since being Director of VBA from 2009 up to 2012, I have been convinced of the importance of the society for the investment community in the Netherlands. Since the merger of VBA and CFA Society Netherlands, I have been active as volunteer through my membership of the Committee for managing VBA reserves. This summer, I attended an event organised for volunteers in the society. I enjoyed very much spending the afternoon and evening with some new acquaintances and with investment professionals I already knew but hadn't seen in years, partly due to the Covid lockdowns. A couple of weeks later, I decided to apply for a membership of the society board.

I intend to bring in my enthusiasm, my network and my experience in different senior roles in the financial sector to help the society thrive and flourish. I sincerely appreciate the quality and integrity of investment professionals in the Netherlands and am convinced that I can make a positive contribution through joining the board of CFA Society VBA Netherlands.

Bio

Inge van den Doel PhD joined Pensioenfonds Metaal & Techniek (PMT) as Chief Investment Officer in April 2012. From October 2017 onwards, she has been General Director of PMT. From 2009 up to 2012, Inge was Director of VBA. She stayed member of VBA and later CFA Society VBA Netherlands ever since, and contributes to the society as volunteer in the Committee for managing VBA reserves. Before 2009, Inge held several positions at De Nederlandsche Bank, including Head of Asset Management and Head of Treasury. Before taking on management positions, she worked at De Nederlandsche Bank and at the Bank of England as Portfolio Manager. Inge obtained a PhD from the Tinbergen Institute at the University of Amsterdam.

Noortje Draper RBA – Senior Investment Manager at PGGM Investments

I strongly believe in the added value of CFA Society VBA Netherlands within the financial landscape. The society brings us together, contributes to continuous development within the broad spectrum of our work fields and ensures that topics are shared within the society in an accessible way. This is a great foundation! In addition, I am convinced that our society can also be of added value in the public debate. Especially in current times, where there is a lot of uncertainty, I think it is of great importance to share complex and specialist information with the public community in an accessible and objective way. Our association has the necessary knowledge and I think it's fantastic to contribute to that!

Dr. Raphie Hayat, CFA – Senior Investment Strategist at a.s.r.

The nicest, smartest and most ethical people that I have met within the financial community, I have met via CFA Society VBA Netherlands. Anything that can contribute to the benefit of such an organization is something I want to do. That is a major reason I have been an active member of the Society. I also truly believe in its mission. We have grown a lot the last couple of years and I believe we are facing a number of challenges, such as digitalization, the changing needs of finance professionals and how to stay relevant. I would love for a chance to help us face some of these challenges.

It is not just that I want this, I also think I can add value. For one, I know the Society well. I have been an active member for almost 9 years, joining pretty much directly after receiving my CFA Charter. Since then I have helped organize the Research Challenge a couple of times, have briefly given CFA Ethics trainings and have helped organize the Annual Dinner for a couple of years now. I am currently the Chair of the Candidate and Student Committee. In addition, I teach the CFA prep course at the University of Amsterdam and have a part time position at Utrecht University School of Economics as a lecturer. I hope this shows that gaining and transferring knowledge is a big part of what I do and what I am, which fits well with the mission of the Society. Finally, I have a decent network that spans academia as well as the financial sector, which I think will be of good use for us.

Linde Kok, CFA – Senior Investor Relations Specialist at PostNL

I believe CFA Society VBA Netherlands is of great value to the investment community. Ever since I became a CFA charterholder in 2019, I have been an active member and experienced the various benefits the society offers, such as knowledge sharing, coaching and networking. An important reason for me to become a board member is to actively contribute to the society; a society that serves a diverse though in many ways like-minded group of investment professionals. My goal is to continuously increase the society's value and have a positive impact on the investment community.

With over 8 years of experience in various roles in the financial industry, including finance in insurance, strategy in asset management and investor relations at PostNL, I have a broad background. This has provided me with a broad skillset that includes softer skills like project management and both internal and external communications. I enjoy making a positive impact and to work with various stakeholders in a dynamic environment. I therefore look forward to contribute to the society and further build and increase its value.
